

A Heritage Education Co-ordinator

Brockwell Lido

£17,500 pa

15 hours per week

The refurbishment of the Grade 11 listed Brockwell Lido is scheduled to finish in July. The Lido will now return to its former glory and continue to provide open air swimming and sunbathing to the people South London.

The Lido is a Landmark in south London and has always been popular with the local community, many users are passionate about the building and are excited now that the future for swimmers has been secured.

Fusion has an exciting opportunity for a heritage education co-ordinator to develop and implement conservation and heritage based education programme for the newly re-developed Brockwell Lido.

The role will involve the preparation and delivery of programmes through courses, outreach, exhibitions and activities based on the relevance of the past, present and future of this icon. As coordinator you will also be assisting in the supervision, operation and control of the programme.

The successful candidate will have a recognised teaching qualification or training in conservation and heritage. Experience in a similar role would be an advantage.
